Honorable William H. Webster
Director
Federal Bureau of Investigation
Washington, D.C. 20535

Dear Bill:

The Intelligence Community has completed an updated assessment (enclosed) of the likelihood and implications of terrorist actions against US nuclear weapon sites. The message of this assessment is that the threat is so serious that every precaution is called for.

[Redacted]

The value of even an unsuccessful attack on a nuclear weapons facility is enhancing anxieties in Western Europe that some terrorists groups may make such attempts.
